CURRENT POSITION

UX/UI Engineer
ReturnLogic
2019 - Present

Currently serving as UX/UI lead for the SAAS returns management startup. Routine responsibilities include designing and developing for both web and mobile use, wireframe creation using Axure, front-end development using HTML, CSS, Javascript, AngularJS (for our legacy system) , Angular 8 (for our newer application) and establishing customer trust through focus group discussions.

I lead a small team composed of junior designers, developers and interns. Since the company is still in its infancy, I wear many hats and responsibilities rotate from design and development work, to mentorship, research as well as administrative duties. I take ownership of all current design decisions and talk regularly to stakeholders to defend those decisions. I'm passionate about the work I've done to assist in our application's user interface and human-centered experience, and I work diligently to deliver results.
